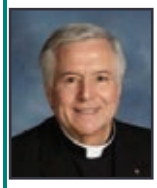
NIC NOTES



Dear Parishioners,

As you may know, the Archbishop had decreed to raise the age for children to be Confirmed to either the seventh or eighth grade. Prior to this, we at St. Helena celebrated the Sacrament of Confirmation in the sixth grade. Because of that, we did not have Confirmation for our youth last year. We will be having Confirmation this year on March 19. As part of the preparation for our children to receive this Sacrament, they participate in a retreat. This past Saturday, our children in PREP had their retreat day here at St. Helena. The children to be confirmed in St. Helena School will be having their retreat day in February. I would ask that you please remember these children in your prayers so that through this wonderful Sacrament they will become ever more close to our Lord.

I want to acknowledge our School children as well as our PREP children who so wonderfully reminded us through their Christmas play and Christmas tableau of the reason for the season. So often in the hustle and bustle of the "holiday" ~ people can forget that it is a Holy day or actually a Holy Season. You no doubt realized this fact when you saw that the decorations were "still up" in the Church and Chapel after the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord.

I want to thank the Ladies of Helena who sponsored our Second Annual Tree Lighting. I'm so grateful for the many delicious cookies and treats as well as hot chocolate that they provided. I'm sure that everyone who attended the Christmas Tree Lighting enjoyed it because we also had a special visit from two very special people: St. Nicholas and Santa Claus.

I also want to thank our Knights of Columbus who assisted us with "breaking down" the Christmas decorations in the Church. I'm extremely grateful to all those who assisted us in the decorating of our Church for Christmas. Many, many, many people commented on how absolutely beautiful the Church was for Christmas.

I once again want to thank everyone in our wonderful Parish for all that they do to make this the wonderful Parish that it is. I want to thank all of our good and faithful and generous parishioners for all that they do to make everything possible! Without your generosity we would not be able to do all that we are able to do to help bring others closer to Christ and His Church.

May God, through the intercession
St. Helena, bless us!

Love and prayers,

Monsignor Nicolo

MADELEINE'S MESSAGE

Our Level Two classes, under the direction of Sally Pavlick and Terry Reigle, received their new First Eucharist books.

The children are preparing for their First Holy Communion on the 2nd of May.

They have a lot of work ahead of them and are very excited about receiving their First Holy Communion.

Parents can help children begin preparation to receive First Holy Communion much earlier. Children as young as kindergarten can become familiar with basic prayers and the Mass. These efforts will pay off in having a child who is more fully prepared to receive First Holy Communion.

As the New Year begins, let us pray to Saint Therese:

St. Therese hears our requests and intercedes with God on our behalf. She showers us with roses every day, and we continue to be blessed and have prayers answered because of the intercession of our "Little Flower." St. Therese's own desire was to "make God known and loved until the consummation of the ages."

By sharing your words of thanks, you too, are fulfilling St. Therese's own mission. What a wonderful way to spread the word of God and St. Therese to the world!

Have a great week!
Madeleine

This week, the bread & wine for the celebration of Mass are offered by Lee & John Banicki in memory of
THE SPENCER & BANICKI FAMILY

PRAY FOR OUR DECEASED

KEN'S CACHE

The announcement of the "Great Reversal" appears early in the Gospel in the "Magnificat" (Luke 1:46-55.) Shortly after she consents to become the Mother of Jesus, Mary hurries to visit her cousin Elizabeth, who she has learned from the Angel Gabriel, has conceived a child in her old age. When the two meet, Elizabeth bursts into a joyous welcome for "the mother of my Lord" (1:43). Mary responds by praising God for what he has done for her: "My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord; my spirit rejoices in God my savior. For he has looked upon his handmaid's lowliness." (1:46b-48a)

Mary represents the most powerless people in her society: young, female, poor. Yet God chose her—of all people—to be the mother of the long-awaited Messiah. Mary's lowliness, which in human eyes would surely disqualify her from anyone's consideration for such an unimaginably important role in God's plan of salvation, is exactly what makes her so perfect for it. Mary is "lowly" not simply in social status, but also in her relationship to God. Her social vulnerability allows her to be spiritually vulnerable as well. She is humble, open to the call of God, however frightening it may be, however impossible it may seem. Because she knows she is so dependent on God's mercy, she is radically free and open to put herself at the disposal of God's glory. Although she sings that "the Mighty One has done great things for me" (1:49), Mary also understands that what God has done for her as an individual is a sign of God's concern for all the lowly: "He has shown might with his arm, dispersed the arrogant of mind and heart. He has thrown down the rulers from their thrones but lifted up the lowly. The hungry he has filled with good things; the rich he has sent away empty" (1:51-53.)

God's action on Mary's behalf signals an overturning of society as a whole. Not only are the lowly lifted up and the hungry fed well, but the rich and the powerful have actually lost their positions in society. God intends that those who are without will have what they never had before and that those who have "everything" will now go without. This is a strong declaration of God's judgment on the arrogant and the proud, the exact opposite of the lowly and humble. Such people are not open to hearing the call of God and, as will become quite evident in the rest of the Gospel, are particularly resistant to hearing Jesus proclaim the Kingdom of God. Their sense of security and well-being prevents them from seeing how dependent they are on God's mercy. Thus, their social invulnerability has created in them a similar spiritual invulnerability. The proud and arrogant effectively shut themselves out of the Kingdom, resisting the call to conversion and the acceptance of God's mercy, the two keys to that Kingdom.

What are we to make of the fact that Mary declares that these things have already happened? Anyone could see 2,000 years ago that the rich and powerful were still quite rich and quite powerful, and that the lowly and hungry were no better off than before. According to some scholars, the original Greek uses the past tense here to indicate habitual action, so that Mary is describing a God who routinely upsets the rich and powerful while raising up the lowly. Other scholars argue that the past tense here means what it often does when used by biblical prophets, to indicate a future event that has been firmly declared by God. In that sense, it is as good as done. While one does not have to choose either of these options, the MAGNIFICAT clearly refers to an eschatological reversal, that is, to one that will occur in the coming age. We recognize this as "already" inaugurated by God's making Mary the Mother of the Messiah. More next week!

God bless! Deacon Ken
